The Occult, MIB's, UFO's and Assassinations

By Loren Coleman

Serious students of the political assassinations of the 1960's, and the researchers of Fortean ("the strange and the unknown") have begun to see a surprising number of overlaps between their two fields. Perhaps assassination research is becoming such a mature artform it is allowing the reverberations of the supposed lunatic fringe to seep into its domain. Or is the ever continuing search for clues and hints to the "truth" leading assassobuffs into an area populated by umbrella men, mystery tramps, and the elusive men-in-black (MIBs), those strangely dark-clothed characters who have terrorized UFO investigators since 1947? Whatever the reasons, a bizarre number of links are beginning to be discussed.

Some of the things you hear making the rounds these days have to be taken with the proverbial grain of salt. Some others don't. What pigeonhole a common West Coast tale about Sirhan Sirhan knowing Charles Manson belongs in, is anyone's guess. Supposedly, Sirhan and Manson got to know each other on some occult level when they were on the same cellblock in somewhere prison, California, somewhen, but long before Manson Family Member Squeaky Fromme's botched attempt on President Ford's life.

If a meeting ever did occur, they probably had a lot to talk about. After Sirhan's arrest for allegedly killing Robert Kennedy, Sirhan calmly requested a copy of The Secret Doctrine -- the same book requested by Jacson, the axe-wielding assassin of Leon Trotsky. The Secret Doctrine was published in the 1890s by Madame Blavatsky who said she was the disciple of a cluster of "secret masters". Charles Manson's interest in warlockery, astral projection, magic, and hypnotism went back many years. Sirhan Sirhan's special interest in hypnotism is a key part of Donald Freed's theory in the semi-fictional "The Killing of RFK". Freed feels Sirhan was controlled and used. And was also the alleged killer of Martin Luther King, James Earl Ray? When Ray was captured in London, among his possessions were four paperbacks on hypnosis.

Charlie Manson's use of hypnotism was for the control he could effect over others. But before he was to have a say in the destiny of lives in California, some people tell of a weird intrigue of his in New Orleans, an important city in the John Kennedy assassination conspiracy theories. Supposedly, Charles Manson, Janis Joplin and Charles Whitman among "others" were all part of a loose-knit New Orleans coven. Charles Whitman, of course, was the sniper who made the University of Texas Tower at Austin so infamous. One source of this account comes from a former member of the coven we shall call "Samuel". After leaving the coven, Samuel became deeply involved in UFO research until a "mysterious stranger" visited him and his associates several times and induced them to hand over all their files. This pattern follows the weird men-in-black accounts which have been popping up in UFO circles for years, and recently have been recounted by assassination buffs who find themselves being silenced. But one wonders, who would be interested in terrorizing teen-agers, little old ladies and amateur researchers into giving up their shoe boxes filled with yellowing news clippings on the Kennedy assassination or flying saucer sightings? Whomever and whatever, it was enough to make Samuel drop UFOs and move to Dallas. There he now teaches yoga, the sifi disciplines, and astrology, and infrequently talks of his days in the Manson -Joplin-Whitman coven in New Orleans. (Subsequent research into the biographies of Manson, Joplin and Whitman indicate that while they never may have been in New Orleans at the same time, all three of their lives apparently overlapped in Austin, Texas! New Orleans may be misinformation in the rumor to throw off further inquiries into this very strange coven.)

New Orleans. David Ferrie. Lee Harvey Oswald. How many times have we heard of this trinity in the last few years? David Ferrie, CIA contract pilot and Oswald's supposed contact man, was involved in some strange goings-on before his sudden death only days after Jim Garrison's conspiracy investigations were publicized. In the late 1940's, Ferrie stopped studying for the priesthood and became a commercial pilot in Ohio. From there, Ferrie was whisked, probably as a U-2 pilot, into the 1950's by the CIA whom he had to thank for the loss of his body and head hair. After the Bay of Pigs, we find David Ferrie in New Orleans as the self-appointed high priest in a small religious sect called the Apostolic Old Catholic Church of North America. Some members of the church were Tom Beckham and Jack S. Martin who with Ferrie and Oswald worked out of Guy Bannister's Lafayette/Camp Street office and figured in the Garrison investigation. The church conducted services involving animal sacrifice and blood guzzling. During Lee Harvey Oswald's last weeks in New Orleans, he attended many ritualistic parties in private homes and apartments with David Ferrie. Ferrie was heavily into black magic and had a strong working knowledge of hypnotism. Ferrie was even to use hypnosis as one of the romantic controls over his gay lovers. But how engrossed was Lee Harvey Oswald in Ferrie's hypnotic powers? Oswald felt he was a "patsy". The nefarious projects of assassination conspirators could easily have as one of their important elements people who practice or follow occult doctrines. A James Earl Ray? Sirhan Sirhan? Lee Harvey Oswald? David Ferrie? Charles Manson and Squeaky? Such visionary neurotics may be easy dupes, and hypnosis may be a key.

In the end, though, theorizing on matters of connections between the occult and political murders is a shadowy practice, at best. The link goes to the depth of the meaning of the very word "occult", for the affairs of assassinations are indeed "hidden". It is the occasional break in this veil surrounding these esoteric happenings which investigators have learned to examine, analyze and dissect. One such uncanny but concrete fissure is the personage of the late Fred Lee Crisman.

Fred Lee Crisman apparently was a cloudy figure in Dealey Plaza on the 22nd of November, 1963. But first, let us shoot back to 1947. It is the 21st of June, three days before Kenneth Arnold, a private pilot sees disc-shaped objects over Mt. Ranier, Washington. Arnold will coin the word "flying saucers" and the modern age of UFO mania will be born. But on June 21, 1947, no one thought in terms of UFOs or flying saucers.

On that day, near Maury Island, Washington, Fred Lee Crisman and Harold A. Dahl, harbor patrolmen, separately saw six donut-shaped metallic objects over Puget Sound. One of these unidentified flying objects exploded and showered a metal slag onto a boat owned by Crisman near Maury Island. The slag killed a dog (the first modern animal mutilation case?) and injured Harold Dahl's son who was the boat's pilot. Both Crisman and Dahl collected samples of the slag.

The next day, Harold Dahl was visited by a medium-height man dressed in black, driving a new 1947 Buick. (This is the first modern case of a MIB.) This man sat down with Dahl and over breakfast told him detail for detail everything Dahl had seen and done the day before, as if the stranger had been there. When Dahl related this to Kenneth Arnold who had been sent by editor Ray Palmer to investigate, Harold Dahl was visibly upset by the accuracy of the MIB's account. The stranger then warned Dahl in no uncertain terms that if he valued the safety and health of his family, Dahl would tell no one about the sighting.

The events that followed the Maury Island sighting are so bizarre that their only parallel has been the strange events leading from Dallas to Watergate, from the silencing of assassination witnesses to the break-ins of "The Plumbers".

After Harold Dahl was interviewed by Kenneth Arnold, Dahl vanished. Fred Lee Crisman, who had flown during World War II, was suddenly recalled into the service in 1947. Crisman was shipped to Alaska and then to Greenland. Two Air Force officers, Davidson and Brown, were killed after they finished their Maury Island investigation, when the plane taking them from Tacoma crashed. Slag samples collected by Crisman and Dahl were switched. Additional samples contained in a cigar box in Ray Palmer's Chicago office were stolen.

Kenneth Arnold and airline pilot E.J. Smith had many strange experiences as they investigated the Maury Island Incident, as it came to be known. Arnold found hotel reservations were made for him in Tacoma although he thought no one knew he was coming. Mysterious callers informed the local newspapers of the details of the Arnold-Smith conversations. The two men checked for bugging devices, but could find none. Paul Lance, a Tacoma newsman who had assisted Arnold during his inquiry, died shortly after Arnold left town. When Kenneth Arnold did leave Tacoma, he was almost killed. Arnold got into his plane and was heading home when his engine shut down. Arnold only escaped a crash by some fast and expert maneuvering on his part.

The central figure in the Maury Island Incident, Fred Lee Crisman, was to have many missions after his two years of exile in Greenland. On the 22nd of November, 1963, three "tramps" were arrested but not booked by the Dallas Police and Sheriff's Office. Thanks to William Allen, George Smith, and Jack Beers of the Dallas Times Herald, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and the Dallas Morning News, several photographs were taken of these "mystery tramps" as they were lead across Dealey Plaza. Richard Sprague, computer specialist and a conscientious assassination investigator, maintains one of the "tramps" is Fred Lee Crisman. During Jim Garrison's Grand Jury hearings in New Orleans which looked into the conspiracy surrounding the JFK murder, Crisman was called as a witness and gave testimony. The exact nature of what Crisman said has never been released. And Fred Lee Crisman's name came up again as the subject of a possible investigation by the late Senator Frank Church's Senate Intelligence Committee. What is the strange thread that comes down through the years from Maury Island to Dallas and beyond? What is the purpose of the men-in-black and their fellow silencers? What is Fred Lee Crisman's role in a flying saucer sighting and an assassination?

Whatever the logic may be, the fields of the researchers of the occult, the UFO mystery, and the assassinations seems to be more interrelated than one could have ever guessed only a few years ago.

The Night Stalker File

As Of October, 1985

Compiled by Michael A. Hoffman II

The Night Stalker case is a fairy tale: among the victims was Peter Pan; among the investigators was Detective Grimm (and of course the Grimm brothers were word detectives, i.e. philologists). The Stalker took his cues from the modern script-writers of heavy metal music, the Anti-Christ/Devil's Child or homosexual/bi-sexual or ying/yang individuation of the band AC/DC (whom reputed Long Island, NY devil cultist Richard Kalso also followed -- he was arrested wearing the band's satanic symbol on his T-shirt; Ramirez, not to be outdone by his east coast colleague in the killer T-shirt chic contest, was apprehended wearing a black "Jack Daniels" (whiskey) Tee. Is this a reference to the lethal Jacks of the past -- Jack the Ripper and Springheel Jack? Whoever was in on the snuff of Peter Pan signed himself "Jack the Knife").

It is appropriate in a case where Son of Sam David Berkowitz is cited as an example of feigned satanism (it was "baloney" Berkowitz says this week, but does the news media really only have Berkowitz's word to go on, wasn't there also handwriting analysis and John Wheat Carr and a satanic symbolism of some sophistication involved?) by LA Times staffer Bob Baker, that Ramirez, an emaciated doper and junk food junkie is supposed to have "rampaged" through 30 or more homes...Ramirez with his saturnian rotting teeth, caught on "Saturn-day" dressed for Saturnalia (in black).

The Stalker case is very big, meaning it involves more than the current hypnopsy. We have the little hint from the S.F. police dept. who are unruly a (bit) just as Rochester, NY cops were a little unruly with the California and Washington police who didn't like their tying the Hillside Strangler to Double Initial; and more than a hint in the admission that this supposedly mercenary and deranged psycho was also involved in child molestation. Later when we see the extent of the molestation ring in just one part of LA and we remember that satanic child sacrifice altars were found at "construction sites" and recall that many Night Stalker murders took place near these sites and workers were questioned as suspects in Stalker, the circle grows more luminous. The child molestation cult is part recruiting drive too. Children are imprinted in certain ways and contacted years later. Like the Manson, Leonard Lake (keeper of the unicorn for Ringling Bros. circus) cult-murders, the Stalker seems to have also videotaped the massacres. He was himself a video game hypnotic.

Name and number games abound here: catch the fake address near the 3300 block, the car located on East 23rd, the Elysian murders (recall that's the Roman celestial cemetery where we are to pass "in ghostly review"). You'll also meet Norm Jacoby, one of the namers for the name game and note how even the media is becoming publicly a tad less obtuse, citing at least a particle of the psychological impact of names. The messages scrawled on walls. The "satanic Montessori" fairyland reported by "Faye"...the accused now held incommunicado, gag orders; his family must get a clearance to see the patsy through an interesting Establishment-appointed lawyer named Adashek. There's quite a game being played here...as I write this the latest system farce to show Berkowitz as the stereotypical lone nut is scheduled for American TV broadcast. It will coincide with a pay TV channel nat'l broadcast of THE WICKER MAN.

A CHRONOLOGY OF THE NIGHT STALKER'S SPREE

FROM THE LA TIMES — SEPTEMBER 1, 1985

- 1) Early 1985: Two people are slain in undisclosed parts of Los Angeles. Later, police will link these slayings to the Night Stalker. The locations and dates have still not been revealed.
- (2) Feb. 25: A 6-year old Montebello girl is taken from a bus bench near school while waiting for an older sister. She tells police that she was carried away in a zipped garment bag, sexually assaulted and dropped off in the Silver Lake area.
- (3) March 11: A 9-year old Monterey Park boy is kidnaped from his home at night, sexually assaulted, then left in Elysian Park, near Silver Lake.

- (4) March 17: Dayle Okazaki, 34, is killed and her roommate, Maria Hernandez, is wounded in an attack in their Rosemead condominium.
- (5) March 17: Two miles from Okazaki's home, Tsai-lian Yu, 30, of Monterey Park is pulled from her car near her home and shot several times. She dies the next day.
- (6) March 20: An Eagle Rock girl is kidnaped and sexually molested by a man who breaks into her family's home at night.
- (7) March 27: Vincent Zazzara, 64, a retired investment counselor, is beaten to death and his wife, Maxine, 44, is stabbed to death by an attacker who enters their ranch-style Whittier home through an open door. Their bodies are found by a business acquaintance two days later.
- (8) May 14: William Doi, 65, is shot to death in his Monterey Park home by an assailant who crawls through a open window. Doi, whose wife is assaulted, manages to telephone the emergency 911 number before losing consciousness -- a call that police later said saved his wife's life.
- (9) May 29: Mabel Bell, 84, and her invalid sister, Florence Lang, 81, are beaten in their Monrovia home, high above the San Gabriel Valley, on a narrow, winding road. The women are found four days later by a gardener. Bell dies July 15.
- (10) June 27: Patty Elaine Higgins, 32, is slain in her Arcadia home. Her throat is slashed.
- (11) July 2: Less than 2 miles from Higgins' home, Mary Louise Cannon, 77, of Arcadia, who had fought off two bouts of cancer, is murdered. Her throat is slashed.
- (12) July 7: Joyce Nelson, 61, is beaten to death in the Monterey Park home where she lives alone.
- (13) July 11: More than 600 residents jam a Monterey Park Neighborhood Watch meeting anxious over the murders in their hometown and other nearby San Gabriel Valley communities. Police say they cannot yet connect the murders to a single suspect.
- (14) July 20: Chainarong Knavananth, 32, is slain in his Sun Valley home. His wife is beaten and raped, and their 8-year old son is beaten. An estimated $30,000 in jewels and cash are stolen. Police are given a clue: A witness tells them the suspect fled in a maroon-colored Pontiac Grand Prix with a damaged right front fender.
- (15) July 20: Max Kneiding, 68, and his wife, Lela Ellen, 66, are shot to death in their Glendale home.

(16) Aug. 6: Christopher Peterson, 38, and his wife, Virginia, 27, are both shot in the head in their Northridge home and survive.

(17) Aug. 8: Elyas Abowath, 31, is shot to death in his Diamond Bar Home. His wife is beaten. Their two children, ages 3 and 3 months, are not harmed. Later in the day, Los Angeles County Sheriff Sherman Block tells reporters that the attack of the Abowaths is the latest in a series of six killings that authorities have linked to the same suspect. It is the first public revelation that a serial killer is loose in Southern California.

(18) Aug. 10-11: Reports of crimes made by citizens to LAPD's Communications Division which processes emergency crime calls, jump more than 15% during the weekend apparently because of anxiety over news of the Night Stalker's attacks. Gun shops report increased sales.

(19) Aug. 13: The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors offers a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the Night Stalker.

(20) Aug. 14: Sheriff's investigators say they now believe that the Night Stalker is responsible for a seventh slaying, the March 17 shooting of Tsal-lian Yu in Monterey Park.

(21) Aug. 17: In the first killing outside Southern California, Peter Pan, 66, is shot and killed in bed in his San Francisco home. His wife, Barbara, 64, is shot and beaten, but survives. The house is ransacked.

(22) Aug. 20: A four-hour search in San Marino for a man resembling the Night Stalker is called off after homicide detectives find that the man, who fled in his car when he was stopped by a police officer, was not the Stalker.

(23) Aug. 22: Homicide investigators announce that they believe the Night Stalker was responsible for the August 17 slaying of Peter Pan. A day later, they link an additional seven murders to the Night Stalker, bringing the total to 14. They also indicate that at least three different forms of evidence link the Night Stalker to the Southern California and San Francisco killings: ballistic tests, messages scrawled on walls and a "distinctive" but undisclosed piece of evidence the killer has left behind in the homes of his victims. Meanwhile, San Francisco Mayor Diane Feinstein announces that her city is offering a $10,000 reward.

(24) Aug. 25: Bill Carns, 29, is critically injured -- shot in the head while sleeping in his Mission Viejo home. His 29-year-old fiancee is raped.

(25) Aug. 28: In what police call a "significant break", a stolen 1976 orange Toyota station wagon that had been spotted near the scene of the Mission Viejo attack is found abandoned on a Los Angeles street. Meanwhile the Los Angeles City Council offers a $25,000 reward for the Stalker's arrest and conviction.

(26) Aug. 29: Investigators say they have found "good" fingerprints on the stolen Toyota, thanks to the laser examining device. Meanwhile, they announce that they have linked the two murders that occurred early in the year to the Stalker, making a total of 16.

(27) Aug. 30: Police issue an all-points bulletin for the arrest of a suspect -- Richard Ramirez, whom they identify as being the thin, curly-haired man known as the Night Stalker. They make public a photograph of Ramirez.

(28) Aug. 31: Police arrest Ramirez, taking him into custody after he is captured and beaten by angry citizens who grab him on an East Los Angeles street after he reportedly tries to steal a woman's car.

NAMING THE KILLER

(From the Daily Breeze, Torrance, California, August 30, 1985.)

It's time to play Name That Killer. Thus far, we have entries from many of the area's major newspapers and television stations. But you'd better hurry.

Unless someone comes up with the better sobriquet for the alleged murderer of 16 people, it looks like the inaccurate and all to-melodramatic Night Stalker will prevail.

Still, there may yet be some time left for hedging. While the Los Angeles Police Department has decided to call the fugitive "The Night Stalker," Sheriff Sherman Block's department is referring to him as the "Valley Intruder."

And there are other entries. There's the Valley Killer, The Walk-In Killer, the Valley Invader and the as-yet unused Scourge of California.

The late entry comes from veteran City News Service crime reporter Norman "Jake" Jacoby, the same man who coined the names Valley Intruder and Valley Invader.

Actually, Jacoby could claim to have named Jack the Ripper and a lot of people would believe him. For 50 years the gravel voiced reporter has been putting names to the serial killers our fair state produces in such sickening abundance.

"The Hillside Strangler was mine, so was the Skid Row Slasher," Jacoby said. "I can't remember them all. I like Valley Invader, but LAPD likes Stalker, so it will probably prevail."

When the killer struck in San Francisco and Orange County, Jacoby invented the Scourge of California name because he says its now more accurate....It might come as something of a surprise to learn that many of the news people I spoke to actually didn't like verbally glamorizing someone suspected of wasting and brutalizing a large number of people....

Nobody is more uncomfortable with this name game than KNBC commentator Jack Perkins. "I did a segment on this problem and not seven minutes later I heard our own news people calling him the Walk-In Killer," Perkins said.

"It seems so flippant to attach a nickname to such heinous crimes. It's a journalistic cop-out...We appear to be enflaming rather than informing."

Moreover, the commentator worries that classic arch-villain names like Night Stalker might well goad a killer to live up to a name "that is, at very least, tasteless and, perhaps dangerous."

CHILD ABUSE PROBE (From the Los Angeles Times, September 2, 1985.)

For the last eight months, a 20-man sheriff's task force has been investigating one of the most bizarre cases in California history -- a cluster of alleged child molestation in the South Bay area.

(EDITOR: The Torrance Daily Breeze of August 30, 1985, reported that the Night Stalker "is believed responsible for at least four kidnap-child molestations since February.")

Working out of the basement of a Los Angeles County lifeguard station, the task force ...has spent nearly $800,000 probing allegations that children at several South Bay preschools were molested by their teachers, local townspeople and a variety of strangers.

Investigators have not made a single arrest, a fact that Lt. Richard Willey, who heads the task force, says is as frustrating to him as it is to the community of Manhattan Beach, where parents complain that people accused by their children of having molested them still move freely about the neighborhood and where nursery school teachers and baby sitters claim that they are innocent victims of a witch hunt.

More than a year ago, seven teachers at the Virginia McMartin Pre-School in Manhattan Beach and a playground aide at the nearby Manhattan Ranch Pre-School were charged with molesting scores of children left in their care, and state licensing officials closed both schools....

Police searched dozens of homes and businesses looking for child pornography materials, witchcraft paraphernalia or evidence of child sexual abuse. Yards and lots were dug up in an effort to unearth underground tunnels and animal bones to support children's accounts of secret sexual games and rituals conducted by their teachers. ...

Willey acknowledged that the McMartin case has created some hysteria and false allegations. But after eight months of investigation, he said, he has "no doubt" that multiple molestations have occurred in the South Bay. And although he said he is sure arrests will be made, Willey, 46, added:

"We are not going to be pressured into making premature decisions...A major problem is that we're dealing with 3- and 4-year old kids, because some of the preschools have only been open a short period of time...At one (preschool) where 16 children were allegedly molested, 12 who were examined by different physicians had positive findings of sexual abuse, but none can qualify to testify in court..."

Willey said he believes that the alleged perpetrators at several of the schools knew each other, that information was "absolutely" exchanged and that those involved may be "ritualistic...pedophiles or demonics or a combination of the two," using children to satisfy a variety of needs....

There is no shortage of speculations as to why the South Bay area has become the focus of so much activity. A number of theories emerged in interviews with scores of investigators, parents of nursery school children, preschool owners and teachers...

Several scenarios once dismissed by skeptics as too bizarre to be believed now appear to be seriously by those in a position to know the details of the McMartin and Manhattan Ranch preschool cases:

*Pedophiles may have been attracted to the area, through a loosely organized underground network, by the easy, tolerant life style and small-town law enforcement. They would have gained a foothold in new preschools opening to accomodate the increasing numbers of young children in the area...

"California has had more pedophile organizations than any other state," said Bruce Selcraig, an investigator is Washington for the Senate's permanent sub-committee on investigations. "The Childhood Sensuality Circle is in San Diego, the Rene Guyon Society is in Beverly Hills --NAMBLA (National American Man-Boy Love Assn.)has chapters in Los Angeles and San Francisco and Better Life and several other publications in the late 70s flourished in California . There is a large community of pedophiles and active organizations based in California."

*A cult of satanists may be based in the South Bay area, indoctrinating children into its dark beliefs and exploiting them sexually. Although the evidence to support this possibility is sketchy, investigators are taking it seriously and have attended conferences on cults and brought in experts on satanism to educate them about what to look for.

On the witness stand in the McMartin case, children have described being taken to cemeteries to dig up bodies, being forced to watch animal mutilations and sacrifices on church altars and being surrounded by moaning chanters in ritualistic dances. Such disconcerting findings as a makeshift altar at a construction site covered with a black cloth and set with children's toys, satanic symbols spray-painted on walls and stories of youngsters obsessed with fear of the devil have fueled speculation about satanism.

It is impossible, however, to know whether any satanic "signs" are simply pranks. There is no evidence of a local satanic settlement, despite the mention of "quite a respectable bunch of devil's disciples...in nearby Manhattan Beach" in a 1972 book, "The Occult Explosion." And an "occult bookstore" remembered vaguely by residents was apparently only a psychedelic "head" shop no longer in existence.

*A large child pornography ring may be based in the area, providing young children for the sexual gratification of pedophiles and marketing pornographic photographs of them. McMartin children have testified that they were photographed nude and that the films were sold in their presence....

Manhattan Beach Police Sgt. Jim Noble, supervisor of the department's detective bureau, said recently that even two years after the first arrest, "There is nothing we would rule out...Straight pedophilia, pornography, satanism -- all these theories perhaps apply."

A private attorney representing several alleged preschool victims said he has come to view the molestations as the work of "a network of pedophiles who share kids or ideas and who may or may not be engaged in darker pursuits like satanism or doing it for profit (pornography and prostitution)."

"Who knows why they picked the South Bay to start with?" asked a therapist who has interviewed most of the victims. "But kids are talking about abuse 10 or 12 years ago, so (the molesters) have been there a long time. It may be that the original victims are grown up and continuing what they were taught."

One thing is clear: Even formerly skeptical investigators and therapists who initially viewed the molestation cases as separate, isolated incidents now talk about the possibility that the South Bay cases are linked not only with each other but with similar cases in other parts of the country and that they may be part of a wider conspiracy combining child sexual abuse with satanism and pornography.

Several therapists and preschool teachers in the area say children talk of being taken to other preschools and describe the same houses, cars and perpetrators, even when they have no known connection to the other schools or to each other:

"They tell of being taken to the same houses (for sex) and describe the same cars as driven by their molesters," said Colleen Mooney, director of the South Bay Center for Counseling, where many of the families have sought help. "And usually these are not children or families that know each other."

Kee Macfarlane, a therapist at Children's Institute International in Los Angeles, said she was "jolted" at a recent meeting on sex rings she attended in Washington by the apparent similarities among seven current major preschool cases across the country: Pornography, satanism or rituals and people who are strangers to the children appear to be involved in each.

Dr. Roland Summit of Harbor-UCLA Medical Center, a nationally known psychiatric expert on child sexual abuse who is involved in the South Bay cases, said he is reluctant to go so far as to label the ritualistic abuse described by the children as "satanism".

"One intelligent theory holds that a group of covert satanists -- or at least persons out to destroy the forces of good -- used their skills to develop markets in pornography and child prostitution," he said. "They reached out to perversely inclined individuals, discreetly initiated them into religious circles, demoralized kids and used the money they raise to stage ever more elaborate kinds of unbelievable experiences.

"It may be a small core of religious zealots --with women prevalent but a male designated as cult leader -- meeting secretly, enlisting others at the periphery who buy into the voyage experience or participate in sexual contact or sadistic ceremonies..."

"The current suspects may not have been the religious core," he continued. "They may have been playing games for perverse reasons -- dabblers, if you will -- with someone else behind them."

"They counted on bizarreness," said a nursery school teacher whose own child once attended one of the now closed preschools, meaning that if any of the children told the wild details of their stories would undermine their credibility, especially because the alleged perpetrators appeared to have unassailable reputations as solid citizens.

Some believe that ritual sacrifices described by the children -- the mutilation and killing of animals, cemetery visits, church ceremonies involving black-robed chanters, and being forced to drink blood -- were merely tools to frighten them into silence. Others insist they were attempts to alter their thinking, using religious symbolism and rituals that would be meaningful to their largely Roman Catholic victims.

"The goal was not just to scare them," Mooney said. "They would kill an animal, rub blood on the kids, saying that animal 'died for you, and you are part of us.' It was an attempt to move into the inner core of the child, and sex abuse was only a vehicle to try to infiltrate their fundamental sense of self."

MOTHERS DESCRIBE SATANIC MOLESTATIONS (From the Daily Breeze, September 28, 1985.)

In testimony strikingly similar to the McMartin preschool molestation case, two mothers testified Friday their preschool age daughters were sexually abused at the Peninsula Montessori schools in the South Bay and that school employees wore white robes and slaughtered animals....

The attorney general's documents released to the Daily Breeze this week include a clinical psychologist's notes taken during separate interviews with the two girls whose mothers' testified during Friday's hearing.

The notes released by the Attorney General's Office gave accounts from the two children that a former Montessori school employee allegedly stabbed an infant to death, threatened to cut off a rabbit's ears, and told one child: "Don't like God. Like the devil."

During February testimony at the McMartin preschool child molestation case, a 10-year old boy said children were taken to a Hermosa Beach church and made to watch animal sacrifices. Hooded figures in dark robes danced and chanted in a circle around him, he said....

Several McMartin children talked about a farm where animals were sacrificed....

Illuminati Plan To Conquer The World

By B.W. Alans

After the consolidation of political and financial power on most of the European nations by the middle of the 18th century, the International Bankers of the Illuminati worked feverishly to extend their sphere of influence to the utmost ends of the earth in preparation for their final assault: the downfall and takeover of the United States of America -- a nation which, through its unique and brilliant Constitution -- remained free.

In the years and decades that followed it became obviously apparent to the World Manipulators, that in order to achieve their goal of world domination, they would have to instigate a program of "Managed Conflict" (i.e. World Wars and revolutions) which would result in the leveling of the old world in preparation for the construction of the New World Order. This plan was outlined in explicit detail by Albert Pike, the Sovereign Grand Commander of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry and the top Illuminist figure in America, in a letter to Giuseppe Mazzini dated August 15, 1871. Pike stated that the first world war was to be fomented in order to destroy Czarist Russia (which could very well have gone on to become another American-like democracy had not Pike and Mazzini entered into the act) -- and to place that vast land under the direct control of Illuminati agents. Russia was then to be used as their 'bogey man' or 'straw man' to further the international aims of the Illuminati world wide.

World War II was to be fomented through manipulation of the political and social differences that existed between the German Nationalists and the Political Zionists. This would eventually result in an expansion of Russian influence (aided by the Allied turnover of Eastern Europe to Russia, prompted by Masonic sources high in the Allied governments) and the establishment of a state of Israel in Palestine.

The Third World War was planned to result from the differences stirred up by Illuminati agents between the Zionists and the Arab nations. This conflict was planned to spread worldwide (i.e. U.S. and its allies siding with Israel, and the USSR and its allies siding with the Arabs). The Illuminati, Pike wrote, planned to "unleash the Nihilists and Atheists" and "provoke a formidable social cataclysm which in all its horror will show clearly to the nations the effect of absolute atheism, origin of savagery and of the most bloody turmoil. Then everywhere, the citizens, obliged to defend themselves against the world minority of revolutionaries, will exterminate those destroyers of civilization, and the multitude, disillusioned with Christianity, whose deistic spirits will from that moment be without compass (direction), anxious for an ideal, but without knowing where to render its adoration, will receive the true light through the universal manifestation of the pure doctrine of Lucifer, brought finally out in the public view, a manifestation which will result from the general reactionary movement which will follow the destruction of Christianity and atheism, both conquered and exterminated at the same time."

At the time Pike wrote this letter, the following five World Powers were in existence -- each struggling with the other for supremacy: 1. The secret ideology of the International Bankers, determined to control the world by select "illuminated ones" at the top; 2. Russia's "Pan-Slavic" ideology as expounded by William the Great; 3. Japanese Imperialism, determined to unite the Asiatic nations with Japan as denominator; 4. The ideology of Pan-Germanism, which called for German political control over the European continent, and 5. Pan-Americanism, or the ideology of "America for the Americans."

The fact that Albert Pike and Masonry and all its subordinate institutions pay homage to the Evil One can readily be observed by reading the following address which Pike gave to the leaders of World Freemasonry:

"To you, Sovereign Grand Inspectors General, we say this, that you may repeat it to the Brethren of the 32nd, 31st and 30th degrees -- The Masonic Religion should be, by all of us initiates of the high degrees, maintained in the purity of the Luciferian Doctrine.

"If Lucifer were not God, would Adonay whose deeds prove his cruelty, perfidy and hatred of man, barbarism and revulsion for science, would Adonay and his priests calumniate him?

"Yes, Lucifer is God, and unfortunately Adonay is also god...for the absolute can only exist as two gods....

"Thus, the doctrine of Satanism is a heresy; and the true and pure philosophical religion is the belief in Lucifer, the equal of Adonay; but Lucifer, God of Light and God of Good, is struggling for humanity against Adonay, the God of Darkness and Evil."

CONSPIRACY NOTES

(1) MAFIA-WITCHCRAFT CONNECTION. In the book "Dope, Inc." we are told that the word 'MAFIA' is an acronym for "Mazzini autorizza furti, incendi, e attentati"-- i.e. "Mazzini authorizes theft, arson, and kidnapping". This is verified by Charles Heckethorn in "The Secret Societies of all Ages and Countries". However, a New York based witch has offered a different meaning (and perhaps both are true). He says that the word 'MAFIA' is a contraction of two Italian words -- madre-figlia. 'Madre means mother; figlia means daughter. In this case the mother is a reference to Diana, and figlia is a reference to her daughter, Aradia -- both goddesses of Witchcraft. According to Dr. Stuart Crane, the Mafia is a "Masonic brotherhood". And since many Masonic rituals are similar to the rituals of Witchcraft, there may be some truth to this theory.

(2) THE CROWN (From "The Project", August-September 1985.) The "Crown" or "High Cabal" in Winston Churchill's phrase, is the British Royal Family and its allied and inter-married European Royal/Noble Dynasties such as Hesse, von Thurn und Taxis, Orange, Mountbatten, Cecil, etc. ultimately at the helm of the currently dominant, parasitical world supra-organism or "ruling class/conspiracy." The extent to which the "Crown" can actually change long standing directions of the NBE (neo-British Empire--Editor) without risking being ground beneath its wheels can, for now, only be surmised. It must be assumed that a good part of the "Crown's" attention must be directed simply to maintaining its position by "balancing" the NBE component organisms (nations, religions, cults, corporations, etc.) against one another. The world under the "Crown's" domination seems to lurch from one crisis to the next. On the other hand, there is evidence that crisis management is scientifically used to move the world in preconceived directions, at least on occasion. The extent to which the apex of the NBE has a "tiger by the tail" or "a tiger on the leash" remains a prime research topic for the Project. We hypothesize that the "Crown's" power rests ultimately on personal prestige and enormous hoards of cash, probably secreted in Switzerland and other banking havens and not even hinted at publically. Such a "Royal Depositors League" would have the leverage required to use the world's Merchant Bankers in multifarious strategies, with or without the explicit knowledge of the Bankers themselves. (The Project is published 10 times per year and is available for 20 dollars from: A-Albionic Consulting and Research - P.O.Box 20273 - Ferndale, Michigan 48220. )

(3) THE CROWN (A DIFFERENT VIEW) (From Last Trumpet Newsletter, September 1985) It was the Rothschild family that set up a witchcraft coven known as the Church of the Golden Dawn. This coven of 13 is under the direct leadership of the Rothschild Tribunal to this very day. It was not long until an organization was formed which was called "The Crown". "The Crown" had nothing to do with the Monarchy of England, but was and is a privately owned nation that built the largest merchant marine fleet in the world....London is not the capitol of England; Westminster is. London is a separate nation within a nation, just as the Vatican city is separate from Rome. I think it is interesting to note that even the Queen bows before the "Lord Mayor" of London. This private enterprise that calls itself "The Crown" built an empire known as "The Commonwealth of Nations". The Crown then manipulated the British armed forces and gained control of all major seaports and waterways of the world....Here let it be noted that the conspirators cleverly led people to believe and accept the lie that the Crown is the British Government, just as they have led people to believe that the Federal Reserve in America is a Federal Government agency. (Last Trumpet Newsletter is available for a contribution of at least $2.00 from: Last Trumpet Ministries - P.O. Box 806 - Beaver Dam, WI. 53916.)

(4) THE SIX-POINTED STAR. (From Off-the-cuff...#72.) ...the Six-Pointed Star, the international symbol of witchcraft since recorded history began, was not an Israelite or Hebrew sign anywhere in the Bible. Contrary to so-called Jewish traditions, the six-pointed star was never the star of David (Magen David), but was the "Seal of Solomon" when that Israelite king went into idolatry and witchcraft. This Six-Pointed Star is mentioned and condemned by God in Amos 5:26 and it was called by Him,

"the Star of your god, Moloch." Now, the Star of Moloch is the center-piece, the Logo or Insignia, of the counterfeit Kingdom of the Synagogue of Satan. No Christian should ever wear this debilitating symbol. The true Star of David has five points, with one point, not two, pointing up....As most Middle-eastern scholars will admit to you, the Six-Pointed Star has always stood for witchcraft and the occult in Arabic and the Byzantine cultures. All followers of Islam regard that as a sign of the Evil One. The Zionists get their financial backing, not only from the taxpayers of the United States, but from the Rothschilds. It was on their Coat-Of-Arms, in 1822, that the Star of Moloch appeared for the first time, and the Red Hexagram hung outside his door to identify his address. (5) FREEMEN INSTITUTE. Al LaBron (author of the Shaver Mystery articles in CT) writes us: "I've come across information on a subversive Mormon group and was wondering if there is any connection to the Halcyon Order of the Illuminati (a Mormon splinter group of the 19th century). The group I'm talking about is the FREEMEN INSTITUTE, created by ex-FBI agent, ex-Salt Lake City Police Chief and hard-core Mormon W. Cleon Skousen. The F.I. is none other than a modern version of the secret society called the "Council of Fifty" (or 'Ytfif' - Fifty spelled backwards) set up by Joseph Smith and several other Mormon-Masons as a tool to bring about a World Government. Mormon writer John J. Stewart wrote: "The Prophet established a confidential Council of Fifty, or 'Ytfif', comprised of both Mormons and non-Mormons, to help attend to temporal matters, including the eventual development of a one-world government, in harmony with preparatory plans for the second advent of the Saviour.' Sounds suspiciously similar to Lucis Trust and Planetary Initiative, and their plans for one-world government to make way for their 'Saviour' does it not? The Freemen Institute was created on July 4, 1971 and began publishing the Freemen Report. There is a strong Masonic influence in the Institute. In November 1978, a branch group was formed called THE FREEMEN CENTER FOR GLOBAL STUDIES, which renewed publication of the Freemen Report under the new name Freemen Digest. Almost at once, they began publishing favorable articles on one-world government, interviews with David Rockefeller and his Trilateral Commission, the Bilderbergers, Alpine Institute, Common Market insiders, etc. If you write the Trilateral Commission or Bilderbergers and ask about their activities they will probably refer you to, or send you a copy of the FREEMEN DIGEST (the issue telling about the Trilaterals, etc.) --as they have done in some cases. It appears as if the Freemen Institute (and the Mormon Church) has jumped on the bandwagon, along with the Bilderbergers and the rest.

(6) GOATBUSTERS. In his book "The People of the Secret", writer Ernest Scott tells of a tribe called the Aniza tribe, from which sprang the Two-Horned Cult. The Aniza tribe --a tribe of Bedouins -- used the goat as their symbol. In 826 A.D., the Aniza tribe referred to their disciples as "the Wise Ones", and used the torch between the horns as a symbol of Illumination. This symbol was later used by the Knights Templar and by the witches. It became known as the Goat of Baphomet. According to Nesta Webster: "The Sabbath Goat is clearly of Jewish origin. Thus, the Zohar relates that 'tradition teaches us that when the Israelites evoked evil spirits, these appeared to them under the form of he-goats and made known to them all that they wished to learn.' " The goat is also a symbol of the pantheistic World Soul (according to Manly Palmer Hall in "The Secret Teachings of all Ages"). The Two-Horned Cult moved into Spain in the year 1460. There they formed an alliance with the Jews who were headed by Rabbi Ishaq Toledano. The Rabbi wanted to use Cabalistic Black Magic against the Christians. The combined operations of the Jews and the Two-Horned Cult produced components later to become incorporated into Witchcraft. It was around this period that Spain became the target of Jewish ritual murders. Ernest Scott says that there was a form of Witchcraft in the first half of the 15th century which the Church tolerated; but in the second half, there was a form of Witchcraft which the Church could not tolerate. This Witchcraft featured the marks of Rabbi Toledano and the Two-Horned Cult (i.e. ritual sacrifices).

(7) THE PRISONER. We have a letter from a man in one of our American prisons. Since his incarceration, this man has accepted Jesus Christ as his Master and Saviour.

But, because of his commitment to Christ, he has had problems with the Captain of his complex and with the Chaplain -- both of whom are Freemasons. He tells us several interesting items including: (a) Prisoners are being initiated into Masonry. (b) Narcotics are sold by the Masonic officials to prisoners to milk them of their cash and fund the schemes of the Cult. (c) The Masonic prisoners are allied with other prisoners who are members of the Aryan Brotherhood and the KKK. (d) The cult entered a cell one night and murdered a man via hanging.

(8) IS BILLY A MASON? Under the heading 'Billy Graham Has Operation' the following report was published in THE TIMES of May 7 1984: "Dr. Billy Graham, the American evangelist, who is to start his biggest crusade in Britain on Saturday, is expected to be discharged from the ROYAL MASONIC HOSPITAL, West London, today after a successful sinus operation."
